SVG adopts the following principles as the base foundation of its business operations:

To mobilize capital for profitable investment so as to generate the highest returns to society as a whole.

Moral obligation to support and encourage entrepreneurs whose creativity and dedicated management efforts will make efficient use of the resources for the benefit of all, wherever shall operate.

Maintain highest levels of integrity, fairness and goodwill to all human-beings and as employees shall have a particular duty to help each other and to create a harmonious and rewarding work environment for everyone's mutual benefit.

Help employees to gain satisfaction and a sense of accomplishment from their work, to provide job security and fair and adequate rewards based on their performance and to recognize individual achievements.

Foster initiative, creativity and competence in company managers; to hold them accountable personally for attaining well-defined objectives and to expect from them a deep sense of responsibility, integrity and commitment.

Exercise due diligence in the choice of investments and advice to those who depend on SVG expertise and also to maintain the strictest level of confidentiality in all interactions with clients.

Provide fair and adequate return to the share holders, so as to maintain and enhance the value of their capital and in so doing to provide the business community with a good example of responsible management dedicated to the application of sound principles of accounting and finance.

Fulfill company mission and recognize that the directors, management and all staffs must adhere to the above seven principles in carrying out their regular tasks and that these principles must guide the company's recruitment and organizational development policies and plans.
